Refreshments will be available on the train.

There will be stop of one hour and a half at Butler, Pa., around Noon. Adequate restaurant facilities within walking distance.

There will be several picture stops (both still and movie) at points of particular interest, including a half hour at the Foxburg switchback, and a forty-five minute layover at the engine shops at New Castle Jet., where various types of steam power may be seen and photographed.

All proceeds from this trip will go toward maintenance and expansion of the Pittsburgh Electric Railway's operating Trolley Museum at Arden (near Washington, Pa.).
